AccessNets'07, the annual International Conference on Access Networks co-sponsored by Create-Net and ICST, will be held in Ottawa, Canada, in August 22-24, 2007. Following its first and very successful edition in 2006, this new edition consolidates AccessNets as the premiere conference on the topic of access networks and how they integrate with their in-home counterpart.

AccessNets will fill the void created by the disappearance of the International Symposium on Services and Local Access (ISSLS). Being the one and only technical conference on access networks, AccessNets is posed to become the most important forum bringing together scientists, researchers, managers, engineers, and investors from academia, industry and government to meet and exchange ideas and recent results on all the relevant aspects of access as well as in-home networks, and of the many diverse technologies being used to provide broadband access to end users. In its second edition, this exciting event will be held in Ottawa, the beautiful and historical capital city of Canada. The conference will consist of technical sessions presenting original research contributions, as well as workshops and panels focused on the development, application and business aspects.

You are cordially invited to participate in the conference as a sponsor. This provides a unique opportunity to increase the visibility and product awareness of your organization within a specialized and influential community. Acknowledgments of the sponsors, such as the company's name, product, and logo, will appear in the main page of the AccessNets'07 website and in all the official documentation of the conference. Below, you will find guidelines as to the many levels of sponsorship that are available, which can be tailored to the specific needs of each sponsor candidate.
